

Awarded: CMV Group's Paul McPherson, apprentice Nathan Strauss and CMV Group's Paul Crawford at the Automotive Graduation Ceremony.

Dedication pays

HARD work and persistence of apprentice Nathan Strauss paid off at the Automotive Graduation Ceremony earlier this month.

Mr Strauss, an apprentice at Mannum Auto Centre, received awards for his work through TAFE SA.

Mr Strauss was the winner of the CMV Industry Ambassador Award for outstanding attitude and aptitude in both academic and practical results. He graduated with a certificate III in Automotive Mechanical Light Vehicle and also received an award for being in the top four finalists for the RAA Jubilee Award.

Mannum Auto Centre owner Wayne Tabe said he was delighted that Mr Strauss had received the awards as recognition for his outstanding technical abilities, attention to detail and dedication to his work in the automotive industry.
